

Public Offer – Indicative – Autocallable on Single Underlying

This term sheet is for discussion purposes only. All terms and conditions contained herein are subject to and will be superseded by final issuance and/or offering documentation. This term sheet is confidential and must not be distributed to any person not involved in the proposed transaction.

Prospective purchasers of the Notes should ensure that they understand the nature of the Notes and the extent of their exposure to risk and that they consider the suitability of the Notes as an investment in the light of their own circumstances, financial condition and taxation. The attention of prospective purchasers is drawn to the summary risk factors as mentioned in the issuance documentation (see below under the heading “General”).

As with any investment in a security, you are relying on the Issuer to pay you the sums due under the Notes (including any capital protection), therefore you are running a credit risk against the Issuer. Accordingly, if the Issuer becomes insolvent, then you may receive less than the amount you were expecting and possibly receive nothing. Any such payments on insolvency may not be paid for a substantial amount of time. You should also note that, amongst others, any changes to the credit standing (including the credit rating) of the Issuer could adversely affect the price and value of the Notes.
